German Troops Abandon Important Kowel Sector of Pre-War Poland

LONDON, July 5.—Berlin reported today that the Germans had pulled out of the Kowel area of old Poland, 175 miles southeast of Warsaw, and Stockholm dispatches said German civilians were being evacuated from parts of East Prussia toward which the Red Army was rolling at a rate of a mile an hour.

The German high command acknowledged the loss of Kowel, the last strong point east of its Bug river defence line in that sector, and supplementary Berlin comment indicated a sizeable piece of territory had been yielded to the Russians, giving them a springboard for the lower arm of a pincers push against Warsaw.

City Flier Knocks Down Two Planes in Minute

R.C.A.F. FIGHTER SECTOR IN FRANCE, July 5.—(CP)—It took Flt.-Lt. J. D. Lindsay of Arnprior, Ont., only one minute to destroy three ME-109's during Sunday's aerial battles over the Normandy beachhead.

Close behind him was Flt.-Lt. M. J. Gordon of Edmonton, who needed only one minute to destroy two enemy aircraft.

FLT.-LT. GORDON

Flt.-Lt. Gordon, who won his wings and commission in October, 1941, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Gordon of 10124 107th avenue. He was born at Daysland and was well-known in Edmonton sporting circles, having been a member of the Maple Leaf rugby and hockey teams. A brother, F.O. Duncan Gordon, served as an observer on Halifax bombers in the Middle East.

These two pilots tallied the main part of the bag of seven enemy destroyed, five damaged by the Canadian Wolf Squadron that day. Flt.-Lt. Andy Mackenzie of Montreal was credited with one destroyed, one damaged, and Flt.-Lt. Wally Hill of Port Nelson, Ont., and F.O. Robert Green of London, Ont., shared destruction of the seventh.

Lindsay's three in a minute raised to six his total enemy aircraft destroyed. He was leading a Spitfire section when he caught sight of 15 ME-109's southeast of Caen.

"They were stupid," said Lindsay, "all the evasive action they took was to weave slightly and open their throats."

Russian Troops Have Begun Large-Scale Landing Operation on the Northern Shores of Vilpuri Bay in Southern Finland in an apparent attempt to establish a bridgehead behind Finnish lines, the Finnish communiqué said today.

Red army troops began landing from many boats early Tuesday, the Finnish high command said, supported by coastal batteries firing from the southern shores and by smoke-screen.

(The town of Vilpuri at the head of the bay was captured recently by Russian troops.)

LAND IN NARVA BAY
(The Finnish bulletin also reported landings on islands in the Bay of Narva, and said the Soviets had been thrown back into the sea on two of them.)

(Landings are continuing with violent fighting, the bulletin added.)

A Bern dispatch to the Stockholm newspaper Dagbladet said the Nazis had begun removing civilians from the border region of East Prussia, and 15,000 already had moved west.

Named by Speaker

Member Barred From Commons For Seven Days

By JAMES MCCOOK

OTTAWA, July 5.—(CP)—The placid progress of the Commons budget debate last night was interrupted briefly when the House employed a power it uses rarely and suspended one of its members—Ligouri Lacombe (CON—Laval-Two Mountains)—for seven days.

The day was spent in discussion of budget proposals presented last week by Finance Minister Ilsley, with suggestions from opposition speakers for adjustments in taxation.

Maxime Raymond, Bloc Populaire leader, was speaking in French at the evening sitting when Mr. Lacombe, who sits near him made several interruptions.

After being warned by Speaker J. A. Glen, several times, Mr. Lacombe rose again. Speaker Glen "named" Mr. Lacombe and the House passed a motion suspending him from the House for seven days.

The motion was moved by Penelope Minister Mackenzie and seconded by Postmaster General Mulock.

Several Canadians flew in this section of the bomber command's featured precision force which was a short time before 7-day—sealed up a large portion of Germany's shipping in the Baltic.

GREAT IMPORTANCE
Magnitude and importance of the operation cannot be over-estimated, particularly when it is considered that a large amount of Allied naval power was thus released for invasion duties which otherwise would have to be assigned to taking care of German ships shipping from the mouth of the canal into the North Sea.

It is believed that this was the first time that Mosquitos were used for mine-laying. They were chosen because of their terrific speed with which they could get into what is from the air a minute target—a stretch of canal only 3 1/4 miles long—and get out again safely.

Ask Government To Take Control Banking, Credit

OTTAWA, July 5.—(CP)—Recommendation that the Canadian government take over administration of banking and credit in the Dominion was made today by the Saskatchewan section of the United Farmers of Canada.

In a brief presented to the Commons banking committee by President F. T. Appleby, the U.F.C. called for extension of bank charters for only one year to give the government time to take over the system. The committee is studying a bill which would extend the charters for another 10 years.

REASONS FOR OBJECTION
"Our considered opinion is that the present operators are not fit and proper persons to be entrusted with the operation of the nation's money and credit instruments," the brief said, citing these reasons for the U.F.C. objection to the present system:

1.—Many of the banks' past transactions have been questionable in character and have been a transgression from the privileges allowed them under the Bank Act.

2.—They proved inefficient during the years from 1924 to 1929 inclusive, in that during those years, they did not or would not foresee the effects of their inflationary action.

3.—They failed the nation in the subsequent years of extremity.

4.—They refused to voluntarily assume their proportionate share of the loss suffered by almost all Canadians, individually and collectively.

MADE FURTHER DEMANDS
5.—They refused to stand by their accepted securities for loans advanced and demanded further security.

6.—They call upon governments to assume responsibility for transactions.

ROME, July 5.—American troops broke into the outer defences of Livorno (Leghorn) today and battled forward slowly through a network of German minefields, concrete pill-boxes and field guns astride the coastal road 12 miles south of the big seaport.

American patrols by-passed the principal German defences and edged their way up the coast toward Castiglione, 10 miles south of Livorno, but front reports said the main weight of the assault was being hurled against Resina, no, two miles to the southeast, where powerful German forces had dug in for a stand.

American tanks and infantrymen forced their way into the outskirts of Rosignano yesterday under heavy gunfire from the surrounding hills.

French troops on the American right flank pushed on three miles north of Siena along the Siena-Florence road, while British 8th

British Subs Sink Nine Supply Ships

LONDON, July 5.—(CP)—British submarines have sunk nine supply ships and damaged two others during recent patrols in far eastern waters, the Admiralty announced today.

They also bombarded enemy shore installations at Lhoé, Sumatra on the northern coast of Sumatra and Ross Island off Malaya.

One of the submarines was commanded by Lt.-Cmdr. F. H. Sherwood, 29, of Ottawa.

Sherwood, who holds the D.S.C., was a star pupil of Cmdr. Ben Bryant—ace among the submarine captains—and later was given command of a new submarine.

He is the first member of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve to hold such an appointment.

Americans Enter Important Normandy Transport Centre

LONDON, July 5.—Front reports said tonight that Canadian troops in the battered village of Carpiquet had thrown back four German counter-attacks, and a Canadian general said "the position is being maintained and improved."

Meanwhile, American forces drove into the Normandy transport centre of La Haye du Puits, captured the railroad station, and were edging forward in sharp street fighting within 300 yards of the centre of the shell-scarred town.

The Canadian general, speaking of the Carpiquet battle, added: "The troops are showing grim determination under heavy fire and there has been no savage fighting."

Canadian troops who had seized most of the Caen-Carpiquet air field reorganized their positions and headquarters spokesmen said they now were 800 yards west of the airfield hangars, which were in enemy hands.

Several German tanks were knocked out and some prisoners taken in the heavy battle raging around the Carpiquet airfield. A front report said the Canadians and Germans were facing each other across the ruined runways, but the town of Carpiquet was firmly in Canadian hands.

Violent struggles swayed back and forth over high ground a mile northeast of Caen, eight miles southwest of Caen.

The British apparently were holding the western part of the village of Fontaine, three miles southwest of Caen, with the Germans battering back into the eastern section.

Roper Claims
Low Refunding Plan Might Hurt Other Proposals

Any provincial refunding scheme completed now, at rates higher than municipalities can obtain for that purpose will only serve to prejudice the case of Saskatchewan and other provinces that plan a refunding arrangement, Elmer E. Roper, M.L.A., leader of the C.C.F. party in Alberta, stated Wednesday.

Commenting on news dispatches from the east reporting Hon. Solon E. Low, provincial treasurer, on the matter of Alberta refunding, Mr. Roper asked, "Why should there be this frantic haste to deal with a matter with which the government has been playing around for years? What right has this government to tie the hands of a new government which may be elected in a month?"

Mr. Roper made the following statement:

I want to protest in the strongest possible terms about the apparent determination of the Alberta government to close a deal with the bondholders to refund the provincial debt on the eve of an election at terms that will shackle a new government with a rate higher than it may be necessary to pay.

Why should there be this frantic haste to deal with a matter with which the government has been playing around for years? What right has this government to tie the hands of a new government which may be elected in a month?

If, as the despatch from Quebec indicates, the government agrees to pay 3 1/2 per cent and recognize the unpaid interest the debt will be paid in full.

LONDON, July 5.—(CP)—In one of the most daring efforts ever carried out by the R.A.F. bomber command, a section of Germany's Kiel Canal was blocked by a low-flying mine-laying force of Mosquitos in May, effectively tying up the canal and stranding hundreds of tons of shipping at its Baltic end. Robots Again Hit Southern England

By J. EDWARD MURRAY

LONDON, July 5.—The Germans continued their sporadic bombardment of southern England with robot bombs last night and today and damage and casualties were reported from a number of localities.

Censorship prevented publication of details of fatalities, but the London Daily Mail said there was good reason to believe that some slight relaxation of the present policy of secrecy may be allowed soon.

The Daily Mail said publication of casualties at regular intervals and some general indication of where the bombs have fallen, apart from the stock designation "southern England," should satisfy those outside the affected districts "who believe either that London is a smoking ruin or that a lot of fuss is being made about nothing."

"At this stage of the war, the public is not so willing to 'take it' without retaliation as it was when we had nothing with which to 'give it,'" the Daily Mail added. "It is felt that with the enormous resources now at the disposal of the Allies, the government is not being so tough with the enemy as it might be."

The British Columbia loan, due to mature July 27, was for an amount of $2,295,609. The renewal provided for by the order will expire July 27, 1945. The Alberta loan, totalling $4,645,000, was renewed for one year, beginning August 1 next.

Two Witnesses State Accused Owned Shotgun

WINNIPEG, June 5—(CP)—Two witnesses at the preliminary hearing of three men charged with murdering S. W. Caughey, bank accountant shot to death in an attempted hold-up here June 2, testified in police court yesterday that Frank Shura of Winnipeg, had a sawed-off shotgun.

Caughey died from a shotgun blast during a scuffle in the bank in the north section of the city.

The men charged are Arthur Evans, former Toronto policeman, William Dacko of Winnipeg and Shura.

CALGARY WITNESS

Chief crown witness was Leonard L. Peterson of Calgary, held on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the affair.

Peterson testified that he accompanied Evans, Shura and Dacko to the north end June 2 and that Shura, Dacko and himself entered the bank. Peterson went to the manager's office and said "This is a stick up. Don't make any fuss and nobody will get hurt."

"I told the manager and the other men to go to the general office and I followed them."

"Caughey argued with one of the fellows, whom I believe was Shura, and when I told him to move he turned and jumped at me," Peterson testified.

STARTED TO SCUFFLE

"Caughey started to scuffle with me, Shura was a few paces away. Caughey took a swing at me and then a shot was fired."

Peterson said he had a revolver, Shura the shotgun, and "Dacko the target pistol, and I believe, an automatic." He identified an old model sawed-off shotgun in court as the one belonging to Shura.

Edward S. Cronk, a material witness, said he accompanied Peterson, Dacko, Evans, and Shura June 1 on a survey of the bank area. He also identified the sawed-off shotgun as one Shura had shown him prior to the attempted holdup. The next day Cronk said he was "pulling out" and wanted no more to do with the plans to hold up the bank, he testified.

QUESTIONS CHARGE

Defence counsel Percy Hagel told the court the public was entitled to know why Peterson, "who has confessed to taking part in the fatal holdup" is charged only with manslaughter.

In cross-examining Peterson he asked what arrangements had been made with Mr. Magistrate A. C. Campbell told Mr. Hagel to desist in this line of cross-examination. The hearing will continue Wednesday.

Before the Magistrate

William G. Mann, Edmonton, pleading guilty before Magistrate Harold L. Howe K.C. Tuesday, to selling a used truck at higher than the maximum selling price, contrary to Wartime Industrial Control Board regulations, was fined $25 and costs or 30 days.

Otto Dering, 13402 61 street, driver of the truck which struck and fatally injured four-year-old Leon Therrien of 11550 94 street, on June 27, was remanded by Magistrate Harold L. Howe, K.C. Wednesday morning to stand trial at the next sitting of supreme court on a manslaughter charge. Bail was set at $5,000.

Evidence of witnesses given at the inquest held Monday was applied to the hearing Wednesday, and only one of those witnesses appeared, and that due to the fact that he would be leaving the city.

Guy Patterson, K.C., acted as crown prosecutor, while Hugh Calais MacDonald, K.C., represented Dering.

Arthur S. O'Keefe, Victoria, B.C., charged under the Liquor Act, was fined $300 or three months with hard labor, O'Keefe, police charged, brought a quantity of liquor from the coast province, to dispose of it here. Five boxes of the liquor was seized when officers discovered a number of men near a car. The accused was picked up, some hours later, in a telephone office.

Elmer England, charged with being in illegal possession of liquor, together with four others charged with intoxication, appeared. Each was fined $20 and costs or 30 days.

No Spanish Aid Is Given to Nazis On Robot Bombs

By C. T. HALLINAN

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin Copyright, 1944, by British United Press

LONDON, July 5.—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons today that the Germans, with the aid of the Spanish government, had carried out tests of the flying bombs at Pamplona, Spain, "are without foundation."

"The Spanish ambassador (the Duke of Alba) has just informed me they are absolutely untrue," Eden said.

Replying to George Strauss, Labor, who called Eden's attention to a Moscow broadcast on June 24 that tests of the flying bomb were made at Pamplona with Spanish aid, the foreign secretary said he had received no official communication from the Soviet government on the matter.

"ABSOLUTELY SATISFIED"

William Leach, Laborite, asked Eden if he would "be good enough to look a little further into the details of this information because it comes from Russian sources which usually are quite reliable."

"I did go to some pains," Eden replied. "I telegraphed myself to Madrid and I am absolutely satisfied our sources of information are completely reliable on this Pamplona story."

Commander Sir Archibald Southby asked Eden if he would "in view of the present delicate international situation" take such steps that lie in his power "to stop this stupid and mischievous attempt to sow dissension between ourselves and Spain."

ward out of the immediate path of the Russian forces some 150 miles to the east.

Many East Prussian families have arrived in Austria, the Stockholm advice said, but a majority of the evacuees were going into eastern Germany because of transportation difficulties.

Another Swiss report relayed through Stockholm said 40,000 evacuees from Poland and the Baltics—mostly German farmers and officials—were hurrying toward Königsberg, capital of East Prussia. By the same accounts, the Germans began the evacuation of Latvia, with many engineers and technical experts already out of the country from whose border the Russians were only 10 miles away.

MAY QUIT BALTICS

German quarters in Stockholm were described as counting on the likelihood that the Nazis would have to give up all the Baltic states.

Kowel, 120 miles across the pre-1939 Polish border on the Kiev-Warsaw railway, had been three-quarters encircled by the Russians since last winter, but there had been no recent reports of a new Soviet assault on the stronghold.

Ernst von Hammer, Nazi DNB news agency military commentator, said the Germans evacuated the "Kowel salient" south of the Pripiet marshes, unobserved by the Russians "in order to take up new positions and enable the Germans to husband their forces and form more mobile reserves."

"According to plan" the German high command communique confirmed that Kowel had been evacuated "according to plan in order to shorten the local front."

The fall of Kowel would eliminate the last German stronghold east of the Bug river, 1939 Russian-Polish border, on the south-central invasion route to Warsaw and Berlin at a time when other Red armies were rolling down the north-central route beyond Minsk.

Ask Government To Take Control Banking, Credit

lions entered into by themselves, where the ability of the borrower to pay had become questionable.

"Because no private individuals or corporations are fit and proper persons to operate a nation's money and credit instrument."

"We contend that a nation's money and credit system is a utility devised to expedite the exchange of goods for goods and goods for service of all the people of the nation, and as such it is the responsibility of the people to own, operate and intelligently control—through elected governments—their own monetary system for service to all, as a public utility."

OPEN SEASONS ON FARMERS

"Those years were simply good hunting for private enterprise and open seasons on the western farmers. It must stand out in history as the eighth wonder of the world: the western agriculture survived the exploitation of those days of rugged individualism."

"It would be interesting to search the bank records to find the entire amount of illegal interest exacted from borrowers of credit. It is our opinion that the government owes such search of records to the public and the amount involved in such discovery should be returned to the rightful owner."

GREATEST INDICTMENT

The greatest indictment against the banks, however, was during the 20's, the brief said, when after throwing open their coffers to unlimited credit they clamped the lid tight when the financial collapse came in 1929.

"Not only," added the brief, "was bank credit denied to western farmers during that time, but the banks further demanded and got, second mortgages on farm property as additional security, also mortgages on the tools of his livelihood, his chattels."

The brief said the U.F.C. did not blame the private banks for refusing to advance further credit, "regardless of the fact that they were largely responsible for the situation."

WOULD TAKE NO RISKS

It said that viewing the whole situation "in the cold light of reason" the banks' first responsibility and duty was to protect the invested capital of their shareholders. The banks would take no risk but if they did find themselves in danger of a loss the government "benevolently" relieved them of any risk by securing them against loss.

"We submit that the record of the bank policy in Canada has been a primary factor in retarding the great economic potentialities of our nation, which has now been proven by the astounding industrial and agricultural production which is without question the highest per capita production achievement in history."

CHECK IS DEMANDED ON "ILLEGAL INTEREST"

OTTAWA, July 5.—(CP)—George Bickerton of Saskatoon, past president of the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, said before the Commons banking committee today that a check of bank records should be made to find the entire amount of "illegal interest" collected from borrowers.

In reply to a question by R. T. Graham (L-Swift Current) Mr. Bickerton said he would favor nationalization of the banks to encourage free enterprise but would be opposed if it hampered free enterprise.

He agreed with a suggestion of Arthur Slight (L-Parry Sound) that the Dominion government should have direct control of the issue of currency and credit.

F. T. Appleby of Pinkham, Sask. United Farmers president, said the Dominion had 32,000 members.

MAINTAIN STRUCTURE

The brief said that steps should be taken by the federal government to administer the banking and credit system of the Dominion "with the least possible disruption, and that except for the elimination of unnecessary duplication, the present public service structure be maintained."

Mr. Bickerton said the United Farmers believed that a search of the records to establish "illegal interest" amounts was owed by the federal government to the public. Amounts involved in such discovery should be returned to the "rightful owners."

The organization had recommended that the Bank Act should provide a penalty when banks charged more than the interest rate established by law.

"It is well known that until recent years farm machinery companies charged eight per cent on current credit debt and nine and 10 per cent on over-due accounts, mortgage companies eight and nine per cent on first mortgages on farm property, with a one or two per cent interest rate on renewal after five years," Mr. Bickerton said.

FORTUNATE TO SURVIVE

In difficult times in the west it was "the eighth wonder of the world" that agriculture had been able to survive "the exploitation of those days."

"There has been talk of hidden reserves of the banks; maybe this interest is part of them," said Mr. Bickerton.

At a recent gathering attended by 500 persons he had asked what farmers had received bank credit at seven per cent and only one man out of his hand. The usual rate had been higher in the past. While the seven per cent rate was not com-

Unanimous Spirit Robot Bombs Make Britons Hate Nazis as Never Before

By CHARLES BRUCE

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, July 5.—(CP)—Germany's flying bombs have created something in this country—a quality of concentrated hatred.

There has been hatred here for a long time but nothing like this sector of the country look skyward and say "The dirty blimps."

During the blitz, for instance, there existed at least a feeling under all the devastating destruction that there were enemy people up there who at least were running their chance with flak and fighters and balloon barrage cables. That wasn't something in which a nameless thing came at the land, its gardens and its people with no one along to take the consequences.

My own observations with people indicate the English now are hating as they never have hated before... people like the pretty telephonist, going home after an all-night shift after one of these bombs dropped... or a policeman, sighting one in the sky, then apologizing to a by-standing woman for the language he had used.

A veteran Fleet Street reporter who was through the blitz and practically everything else that has come at England in wartime, told me in all seriousness:

"This has ended any chance the Germans may have had that the sentimentality of the English people will save them at the peace table again."

Social Credit, C.C.F. Parties Will Nominate

Social Credit nominating convention for Athabasca provincial riding will be held at Perryvale on July 15, it was announced here Wednesday. Sitting member for the constituency is Gordon Lee, Social Credit. The party will nominate for Leduc riding at a convention in that centre July 13. Earl Ansley, chairman of the Social Credit Board, now represents Leduc in the Legislature.

The C.C.F. party will nominate for St. Albert at a meeting in Morinville Parish Hall on Wednesday, July 19. Elmer E. Roper, C.C.F. leader, said. At present, Lionel Teller, Independent, is sitting member for the riding. He has announced he will not stand for reelection.

Other C.C.F. conventions will be held at Calgary for Banff-Cochrane riding on July 11; at Acme for Didsbury, July 12, and at Olds, for Olds, July 12.

Frank Laut, Independent, is the sitting member for Banff-Cochrane; E. M. Brown, Independent, holds the Didsbury seat, while Olds is represented by N. E. Cook, Social Credit.

VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN

"The C.C.F. will conduct a vigorous campaign with all the speakers we can get into the field," Mr. Roper declared today. He reiterated the party's plan to contest every seat in the province, with one exception. In Calgary, however, C.C.F. will nominate three candidates only, instead of a full slate of five. "Three is all one party can expect to elect in a multiple riding," the provincial leader commented.

Parents Informed About Son's Death

Mr. and Mrs. W. Gerrie, 11223 90 street, are the parents of Stanley Gerrie, who was drowned off the west coast Friday when he fell overboard from his ship.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerrie received word late Monday, although their son is reported to have lost his life Friday.

Stanley Gerrie, 21 years old, was born in Edmonton and went to school here. He has been at the coast for some time, and was employed aboard the S.S. Cynthia, a Union Steamship vessel.

pound interest there had been a practice of loaning money in the spring for three months, although the bank knew he could not pay back until after his crop was harvested in the fall. When the three months were up, the interest due was added to the principal for the extension period.

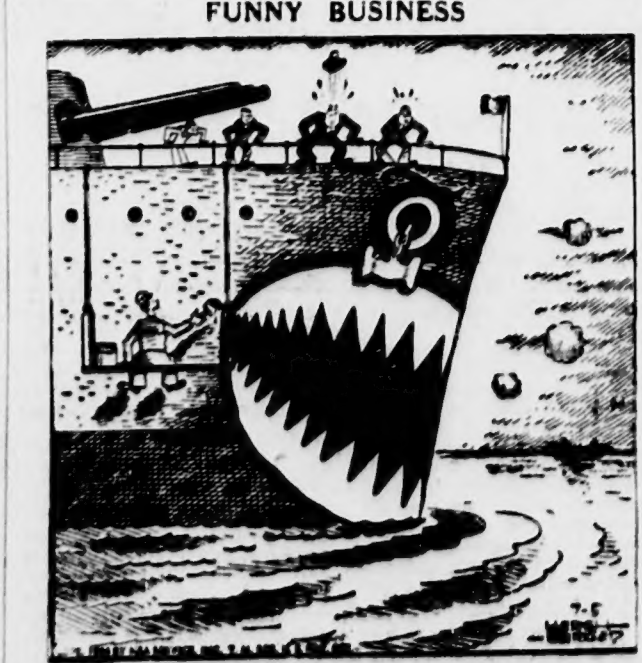

Mr. Bickerton said he understood this practice had been changed in recent years. But there still were complaints about the high rate of interest.

During the depression years, the banks "sat on the lid of credit" and the farm community stagnated.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said he questioned whether there could be freedom of enterprise when the medium of exchange was controlled by private individuals.

Mr. Bickerton said the United Farmers suggested that the policy of the banks should be administered directly by the government.

Allied Troops Tighten Lines Around Caen

treme sensitivity to all British and Canadian attacks in the Caen area, a headquarters spokesman said, adding that the large number of enemy tanks entrenched in the ridges was one indication of the obstacles that had to be met. Also, the strong German counterattacks against the Evrecy salient showed the utmost determination on the part of the Germans to prevent any further British gains to the east.

The Normandy weather closed in somewhat this afternoon. Clouds lowered to 1,500 feet and became an almost solid overcast with some drizzle.

GREAT BARRAGE

Field dispatches said that the American attack which resulted in the penetration of La Haye Du Puits began this morning after a German counter-thrust was repulsed during the night. Allied planes blasted the defences in front of the town and artillery laid down a thunderous barrage.

British United Press correspondent James McGilguy reported that the American right flank along the coast advanced two miles, but due west of Caen, where U.S. forces made limited progress, the Germans had regained the ground in strong counterattacks.

Lt.-Gen. Sir Christopher Dempsey's British and Canadian forces bent on the western wall of the German defences around Caen, main obstacle holding up an Allied advance toward Paris. Fontaine, three miles southwest of the outskirts of Caen, was firmly in British hands, it was announced, while Canadian forces sought to complete the conquest of the Caen-Carpiquet airfield, some two and a half miles west of the outskirts.

The Germans were dug in with tanks and artillery along a ridge behind the airfield and were resisting fiercely. The Canadians used flame-throwers against particularly stubborn enemy positions.

VILLAGE FIRMLY HELD

Ronald Clark, British United Press correspondent at the front, said that Carpiquet village was firmly in Canadian hands but that a heavy German counter-attack last night obliged the Canadians to withdraw a few hundred yards from the southern part of the airfield. Clark said the German counter-attack was based on the heavily fortified administrative buildings east of the airfield.

British forces captured Versen, on the Cherbourg-Caen-Paris highway a little more than a mile southwest of Carpiquet, yesterday and Carpiquet itself was taken by the Canadians in the first two hours of their attack.

British forces also further extended their wedge across the Odon river in the Evrecy sector southwest of Caen. The Germans made two minor counter-attacks against the salient before dawn yesterday, but both were driven off by artillery.

DRIVE ON LA HAYE

The latest American advances brought Lt.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley's troops to within less than two miles of La Haye on three sides and at last reports they were crossing the Odon river, although slowly but steadily in the face of withering crossfire from machine guns, mortars and light artillery.

One American column advanced to within a mile northeast of La Haye and captured Hill 95, the third height on a semi-circle around the town to fall since the start of the American offensive. The village of La Fleche on the northwest edge of the hill also was taken.

Officials Explain Situation on Jobs

There was no discrepancy between receiving 384 applications for unemployment insurance during April and May and at the same time trying to bring 500 more workers to Edmonton, unemployment insurance officials said Wednesday.

Many of those who applied for unemployment insurance were placed in employment at once or after drawing very little insurance, it was explained. The need for more workers in this area had remained steady for three years or more.

Masked Bandits Get $1,700 Loot

WINNIPEG, July 5.—(CP)—A payroll of $1,700 was seized yesterday by two masked men who held up Henry Sanderson, a truck driver, in north Winnipeg. They escaped in an automobile.

Employed by Bliss and Gohn, fur dyers, Sanderson was driving from the bank to the plant when the holdup men, following him in a car, one man stayed in the car, while the other got out and at gun-point forced Sanderson to hand over the payroll.

Sanderson said both men were armed and that they wore masks made of khaki handkerchiefs. A marked cheque for a substantial amount, believed to have been taken with the payroll, was found later in Sanderson's truck.

ALGERS, July 5.—(BUP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle, president of the French Committee of National Liberation, left Algiers this morning en route to Washington, where he will confer with President Roosevelt.

Four Alberta Men Win Commissions

Headquarters of No. 4 Training Command announced Wednesday the names of four Alberta airmen who have been commissioned, two of whom are overseas.

The new officers including one Edmontonian, PO. Byron LaVerne Martin, are: PO. James M. Rosborough, son of J. H. Rosborough of Stettler; PO. Paul Emil Hurtubise, son of Gustave Hurtubise, of McLennan; and PO. James Edward Miller, son of Mrs. D. Miller, of Grande Prairie.

Rosborough and Martin are serving overseas. PO. Martin is an air-gunner, and has been overseas for 16 months.

Carrier Planes Sink Five Ships, Damage Others

PEARL HARBOR, July 5.—(AP)—United States carrier planes sank five Japanese ships, damaged several others, fired harbor installations and warehouses and destroyed 25 enemy airplanes in a raid on two Jima and Maha Jima.

Cruisers and destroyers went in close and shelled two Jima in the Bonin Islands, and carrier planes used rockets extensively in a concerted attack on both objectives, said a communiqué last night.

NO LANDINGS MADE

Since it did not report landings on either Maha Jima, in the Bonin Islands, or two Jima, it seems logical that Tokyo radio's reports of "heavy fighting" referred either to an aerial battle or reflected fear of the Japanese ground forces that such an attack presaged landings.

Aerial bombing and naval bombardment have preceded all Central Pacific amphibious operations but not always have been followed by landings.

Destruction of 25 Japanese planes in aerial combat was listed in the communiqué which also reported an "undetermined number" were damaged on the ground. Six American planes were lost.

SAB THREE DESTROYERS

The communiqué reported three Japanese destroyers were sunk or beached.

Low Refunding Plan Might Hurt Other Proposals

be increased by anything up to $25,000,000 and that will make the rate, based on the present debt, well over four per cent.

I hope the people of the province will protest vigorously against this impending deal. A new government going into office after the election, with a full term and possibly more ahead of it, should be able to make a much better deal with the bondholders than that being publicly proposed by the provincial treasurer.

WOULD HURT CASE

Furthermore if the Alberta government capitulates to the bondholders now at a rate that is higher than municipalities can secure for refunding, it will prejudice the case of Saskatchewan and other provinces who are going to demand a refunding arrangement.

The government has spent a lot of time talking refunding without getting very far. There is no need for the present uneasily haste to make the deal and tie the hands of a new government.

According to a high authority in the government there is absolutely no truth in the statement that a refunding operation will take place before the election. It is also stated there is no offer before the government, and none will be considered before the election.

"Bag" Big Whale

HUBBARD, N.S., July 5.—(CP)—Three fishermen of this south shore port subdued a 37-foot whale with gunfire yesterday and towed the big mammal into harbor by the tail. It took 170 bullets to polish off the whale, estimated to weigh between 10 and 12 tons. Three brothers—Fred, Robie and Cecil Coolen—ran into it on their fishing grounds.

Report Stalin Wants Strong, Free Poland

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., July 5.—(AP)—The expressed desire of Marshal Stalin for a strong independent Poland, friendly with Russia, was made public yesterday by the Rev. Stanislaus Orlowski, pastor of Our Lady of The Rosary Church, whose recent conference with the Russian premier assuaged wide interest.

The priest, suspended briefly after his return from Russia for his unauthorized departure from his parish, released for publication, a written statement given him by Andrzej Witos, leader of the Polish peasant parties.

The statement quoted Stalin as saying:

"We will help you to organize the Polish army and we will not hesitate to supply you with the best equipment. Our army will liberate the Polish people from Hitlerism and Fascism."

"We will not do this for the sake of appearances or because we are brother Slavs but because sound political judgment shows that as neighbors we are necessary, one to another."

"You cannot destroy the Germans so that they will not rise again. A few years after this war there will again be danger of invasion by them. For this reason it is to our mutual interest to have a strong Poland, a Poland that could check Germany. All military incursions into Poland must be liquidated."

"All territories once Polish and taken by the Germans must return to Poland."

Attack Long Rehearsed Parachutists Knocked Out Shore Batteries on D-Day

Capt. Albert Richards, 21-year-old war artist-parachutist of Wallasey, Cheshire, went to France with the D-Day parachute jumpers of the British 6th Airborne Division. In the following story he tells how they carried out their task on the Normandy shores.—EDITOR.

By CAPT. ALBERT RICHARDS
As Told to The Canadian Press

LONDON, July 5.—(CP)—One battalion of the British 6th Airborne Division rehearsed the taking of one of the enemy's strongest batteries on the Normandy shore for long weeks and months. It was its responsibility to insure that those four guns—so heavily encased in concrete as to be safe from air attack—were put out of action before sea-borne invaders arrived on the beaches.

Douglas Names C.C.F. Cabinet After Caucus of five, acting in an advisory capacity. Earlier Mr. Douglas announced a cut of $1,000 each in salaries of cabinet ministers. It was also announced the sessional indemnity of $2,000 paid to ministers in addition to their salaries will be continued under the C.C.F. administration.

All C.C.F. ministers will be paid $3,000 a year. Cabinet salaries, however, will total $60,000 compared with the straight salary total of $49,500 for eight or nine ministers in the Liberal cabinet.

Seven of Premier W. J. Patterson's ministers received $6,000 annually, the premier $7,500, and one minister without portfolio received no pay.

The new cabinet set-up does away with the department of reconstruction and labor and provides for a separate portfolio to be known as the department of rehabilitation and reconstruction.

CO-ORDINATE MOVES

Mr. Douglas said the department of rehabilitation and reconstruction will co-ordinate its activities with the moves made by the federal government for reconstruction and rehabilitation.

The new minister, Mr. Sturdy, former secretary of the Saskatchewan Teachers' Federation, will be in charge of rehabilitation of Saskatchewan citizens returning from the armed forces. He was chosen for the department because of his experiences overseas with the Canadian Legion Educational Services for three years during the present war.

The cabinet also includes the two new departments which the C.C.F. party pledged it would form if placed in power. They are the department of labor and the department of co-operatives and industrial development. The department of social welfare also will be a separate portfolio under the C.C.F. administration.

Formerly the work of social welfare was handled by the Liberal department of reconstruction, labor and public welfare under Hon. J. G. Taggart.

LONG IN SERVICE

Mr. Douglas, Baptist minister and former member of the House of Commons for Weyburn, and at least seven of his cabinet members have had lengthy periods in the public service.

Mr. Douglas, 45, was a member of parliament 10 years before resigning to lead his party into the first C.C.F. administration in the world. Four ministers—Mr. Phelps, Maj. Williams, Mr. Brocklebank and Mr. Valieu, were members of the last legislature while Mr. Corman was mayor of Moose Jaw and C. C. Williams a member of Regina. The new provincial treasurer, Mr. Fines, is president of the Saskatchewan section of the C.C.F.

Maj. Williams was first elected to the provincial legislature in 1934, was elected C.C.F. leader, but resigned to go on active service and was succeeded by Mr. Douglas.

LEADING CRITIC

The new minister of municipal affairs, Mr. Brocklebank, was the leading opposition critic in the last legislature. He became C.C.F. house leader during Maj. Williams' absence.

Mr. Phelps and Mr. Valieu each were re-elected in the constituencies that sent them to the legislature for the first time in 1938, Saltcoats and Melville, respectively.

Only two of the Liberal cabinet ministers seeking re-election were successful at the polls June 15 when the C.C.F. landed into power. They were Premier Patterson, with a majority of six, over Mrs. Gladys Strum, C.C.F., in Cannington and highways minister A. T. Proctor in Mooseomin. A recount of the Cannington ballots is scheduled for Thursday.

The C.C.F. elected 47 and Liberals 5. Later three members to represent Saskatchewan armed services personnel outside the province will be elected to bring the legislature to 55 members.

B.C. Firm Denies Timber Monopoly

VANCOUVER, July 5.—(CP)—H. R. MacMillan, president of the H. R. MacMillan Export Company Limited, in a prepared statement issued here yesterday denied the statement made in the House of Commons by Tom Reid, Liberal member for New Westminster, that "MacMillan interests" have a monopoly in the timber industry in British Columbia. Mr. MacMillan also denied a charge by Mr. Reid that the MacMillan company had been able to obtain the use of more Park Steamship Company vessels than had other firms.

Air Power Bombing Japan Mammoth Job

By Maj. A. P. de Seversky

The first attack on the industrial heart of Japan, achieved by the superbomber B-29, came from bases in China. The bombing seems a simple operation, namely to fly to the target and back. Actually it is a mammoth undertaking. It represents an almost superhuman effort drawing on all our resources of ingenuity.

China is completely cut off from the rest of the world. Supplies must come by air. The "makings" of a bomber attack must first be transported more than half way around the globe and accumulated at the bases. This terrific handicap under which we operate in China was indicated by General Arnold in a report to the Secretary of War.

"Supply is our problem in China. It may throw some light to consider this fact in terms of gasoline alone. In the round trip over Hump between Assam and Kuming, the C-57 transport now in use can deliver 4 tons of 100-octane gasoline. To do so, the airplane must consume 3 1/2 tons of the same precious commodity.

"The crews of a heavy bombardment group in China must ferry over their own gasoline, bombs, replacement parts and everything else in their own B-24's. Before this bombardment group can go on one combat flight, it must make four trips over the Hump. To perform one extremely dangerous mission, these crews must make four separate flights over the most hazardous mountain terrain in the world. Until such time as we conquer this territory and build the road into China, and/or capture a seaport, we must follow this procedure whether it is for 40 aircraft or 4,000."

It was certainly no fault of our aviation industry, which was quite prepared to put large planes into production. Had the decision been made to utilize this technological opportunity, endless chains of super-bombers would now be raiding Japan night and day from Australia, India, and Alaska. There would be no need to sacrifice thousands of lives to win intermediary bases.

Now it is clear why air men clamored for superplanes four years ago, and continued to clamor in the face of ridicule about "fighting with weapons to tomorrow." Half a million coolies and thousands of transport planes, acting as "aerial coolies," attest to the fact that because we did not plan in terms of tomorrow we are stuck with weapons of yesterday.

Say Co-Operation Inside Cherbourg Functioning Well

CHERBOURG, July 5.—(CP)—Co-operation between Allied civil affairs officers and local officials appeared to be functioning smoothly yesterday. One week after this port had been freed from four years of Nazi occupation.

Lt. Col. Frank L. Howley, Drexel Hill, Pa., commanding officer of the first European Affairs unit, in an interview attributed the success to these factors:

1. Few persons in Cherbourg collaborated with the Germans during the occupation.
2. Help furnished by business men in the chamber of commerce in getting utilities operating.
3. In Col. Howley's words, "The intense and united desire among the people to get back to normal as a preliminary step toward making France great."

Canned Vegetable Prices Unchanged

OTTAWA, July 5.—(CP)—Ceiling prices for the 1944 Canadian pack of canned vegetables will be practically the same as last year, the Prices Board announced yesterday in issuing an order fixing maximum prices for the present season's production. Slight changes are made in the ceilings on tomato juice to encourage canning of a high grade product. Payment of subsidy by the Prices Stability Corporation will be continued this year on the same basis as in 1943.

Member Barred From Commons For Seven Days

He said he had not sought to hinder Mr. Raymond's speech, but desired to make "a few remarks" on what the Bloc Populaire leader had said.

Mr. Lacombe tried to protest against the speaker's ruling in the House but was persuaded by the sergeant at arms, J. Laundry, to leave the chamber. Mr. Glen had called Mr. Lacombe to order at least a half dozen times within a five-minute period during Mr. Raymond's speech. When called to order on one occasion, Mr. Lacombe said he was not making interruptions, but simply passing remarks.

Mr. Raymond asked that the interruptions be stopped.

INTERRUPTIONS RESUMED

At this point, Speaker Glen said he wished to warn "the member for Laval-Two Mountains that I will not allow any further interruptions."

Soon afterwards the interruptions were resumed. Mr. Glen then rose and said:

"I have said that I would tolerate no further interruptions from the member for Laval-Two Mountains."

"It is evident the member does not intend to follow my ruling. I am obliged to name him, and I do name him Liguori Lacombe."

Mr. Mackenzie then moved the motion barring Mr. Lacombe from the Commons for seven days.

Mr. Lacombe was named by Speaker Glen on March 24, 1942, when he interrupted during a speech by G. S. White (PC—Hastings-Peterborough).

Speaking in French, Mr. Raymond said that Mr. Liguori had said in his budget speech that too many people were redeeming their victory bonds. This was to be expected as the country had passed its financial capacity. There should have been some reductions in income tax for the fathers of families.

Norman Jacques (SC—Wetaskiwin) said that Socialism, Communism and internationalism were like death watch beetles threatening the old structure of British justice and freedom. Canada should remain a sovereign nation, strong and free.

URGES EXEMPTIONS

Maj. Leslie Mutch (L—Winnipeg South) said there should be income tax exemptions for the parents of student nurses, who at present were not allowed exemption for supporting girls who trained in hospitals.

H. W. Winkler (L—Lisgar) said that assistance in freight rates should be given the southern Manitoba bentonite industry which was developing but found shipments to market more expensive than did competitors in the United States.

P. E. Wright (C.C.F.—Melville) said the proposed removal of duty on farm implements entering Canada would not be sufficient aid to the farmers unless steps were taken to see the benefits were passed on to them. Some action should have been taken in respect to the implements manufacturing "monopoly."

During the afternoon sitting, house members who have said they felt the pinch of income tax on indigent stretched thin by long sessions, listened cheerfully as Rev. Dan Melvor (L—Fort William) suggested to Mr. Hiley a way out of their difficulties.

Mr. Melvor suggested first that the indemnities should be reduced from $4,000 to $2,000 annually. Then he would have each member allowed $2,000 annually for a car allowance on which no tax need be made. A car allowance of this amount now is allowed cabinet ministers.

Speaking in the budget debate, Mr. Melvor said that he had to use his own automobile as much as any minister or other member of the house.

PRODUCTION DISCOURAGED

Karl Homuth (P.C.—Waterloo South) said income tax regulations had discouraged production by failing to allow sufficient return for overtime work. Men still were being called from farms for compulsory military training.

G. G. McGeer (L—Vancouver Burrard) said that the time of intolerable strain due to public debt had arrived in Canada and the people were in revolt against a system of finance which left "hobbling" debt for generations yet unborn.

A complete revision of the monetary system was required, for the

Here's Mud in Your Eye!

WITH THE CANADIANS IN FRANCE, July 5.—(CP)—The Canadian battle for Carpiquet yesterday was half against the Germans and half against the mud.

Trucks slithered and floundered, tracked vehicles ploughed huge clouds of mud into the air, and many motorcycles were thrown into Normandy's gluey ooze.

At one time the attack ran into a check consisting of strong pillboxes and in behind the hangars of Carpiquet airfield and one body of troops took a breather.

Tea was passed around and 19-year-old Brunet Roger of Ottawa, participating in his first battle, brought the wrath of his comrades down upon him when he raised his cup and said:

"Here's mud in your eye."

He had known the city in peacetime, but it had never been the Rome it was in these first hours of his tiny Royal Navy detachment's entry before the main body of Allied troops. Their objective was the Italian admiralty.

"It was dark," Cmdr. Strina said later. "Our troops, what there was of them, were on the other side of the city, and the Italian Communists kept shooting things up. You were never quite certain that you weren't their target."

"When the light finally came, the Italians would look at us and now and then someone would start clapping. Then someone would hiss 'Tedeschi' (German) and they would stop. Then someone else would shout at them and say we were 'Angles' and the clapping would start all over again."

"We set up our headquarters among the old Renaissance fountains of the Piazza Navona. It consisted of a sheet of canvas stretched between two jeeps, a table and a chair," Strina said.

Today, he works in the Italian admiralty, where once Mussolini's admirals plotted the annihilation of the British Mediterranean fleet. Liaison has been achieved with Italian naval authorities and they have worked together in the same building.

Parents should be granted income tax exemptions for daughters training as nurses. Girls following such courses cost their parents more than when they were children.

The work of Dr. J. R. Davidson of Winnipeg, in aiding cancer sufferers should be investigated.

DAVIDSON "NO QUACK"

"Dr. Davidson is no quack, and he never was," said Mr. Melvor. "He has worked and worked for the good of others. His work should not be allowed to go by the board."

Mr. Melvor said he had sent two cancer victims to Dr. Davidson and both were cured.

J. R. McNicol (P.C.—Toronto Davenport), said he would support the Progressive-Conservative amendment to the budget but proposed to speak of a western problem, the shortage of water in southern Saskatchewan.

"I have observed in much travel and study that the west has not had that which it should have," said Mr. McNicol. "And I have in mind the fact that unless the west is at least given a chance to survive we eastern people can not progress."

URGES ABUNDANT SUPPLY

He suggested Agriculture Minister Gardiner ask for any amount of money required to give an abundant water supply to Regina, Moose Jaw and adjacent municipalities. A country could only progress if it had sufficient water. The southern part of Saskatchewan had great prospects, but its advancement was limited by the present water supply.

"The time has come when the federal government has got to do more in building great works in the west," said Mr. McNicol.

In the east the federal government had spent many billions of dollars on canals and bridges. There could be no objection if it spent $15,000,000 or $20,000,000 on "an adequate, even a gigantic project" to give those two western cities and adequate supply of water.

"I am going to appeal to the minister (Mr. Gardiner) to come forward with a really big plan to bring water supply to those two cities," said Mr. McNicol.

He suggested the cost be divided between the provincial government, the cities and the Dominion government. As the Dominion could borrow more cheaply than the provinces and the cities the Dominion should advance the whole amount required and allow the cities and the province to repay their shares later.

Plans Inquiries

OTTAWA, July 5.—(CP)—Resources Minister Cresser said yesterday in the Commons he would make inquiries into a report there was a hold-up in the payment of some wheat participation certificates to western farmers. He was answering a question from John Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre).

Rakston Ready With Statement On Home Army

OTTAWA, July 5.—(CP)—It was reliably learned last night that Defence Minister Rakston is prepared to make a statement regarding the current use of home defence troops if government policy is further criticized in the Commons.

Already before the house is a Progressive Conservative budget amendment regretting failure of the government to disband the draft army and turn fit men back into war industry, farming and forestry operations.

It is understood Col. Rakston, if he feels a statement is required, will argue that conscription of the home draft army for overseas is unnecessary.

It is understood he will say active army enlistment, which fell nearly 1,000 men below the quota for March, April and May, enjoyed an upswing last month when it reached a figure of almost 6,000, one of the biggest monthly totals since war started. The monthly quota is 4,000.

The minister also is understood to be considering a declaration that casualties in France, described previously as below the estimates for the initial period of the assault, have continued moderate up to yesterday. Casualties in Italy also are said to be below estimates.

Veterans Given Former Positions

OTTAWA, July 5.—(CP)—Reinstatement of veterans in their former employment has so far presented no difficulties and as a result of a spirit of co-operation on the part of employers generally, no prosecutions have been found necessary. Labor Minister Mitchell said in a statement last night.

Under the reinstatement act employers are required to re-instate war veterans in their original jobs, or to re-employ the ex-member of the forces under conditions "not less favorable than those which would have been applicable to him had he remained in the employment of the employer." Where two or three persons left an identical job for the forces, the first to leave is the one entitled to reinstatement.

A recent interpretation of this clause is that when an ex-member of the armed services is physically unable to carry out his former duties, the employer must place him at any work which the applicant can do.

Trials to Open

LONDON, July 5.—(CP)—A broadcast by the Morocco radio said last night that the first French military trials since the invasion will open in Cherbourg Saturday when several Frenchmen will be tried for espionage. The broadcast did not give any details but said the trials would be open to the public.

Which Policy, Mr. Ilsley?

The Hon. J. L. Ilsley, Canadian minister of finance, is attending, as Canada's representative, the international monetary conference being held at Bretton Wood, New Hampshire.

Since Mr. Ilsley is speaking for the Canadian people at this important conference, it is rather vital to know just what financial policy he is presenting to his international colleagues as the policy of Canada.

In 1935 and again in 1940, Canadians elected a Liberal Government on the pledge that money was to become man's servant and not his master and on the declaration of Prime Minister King that public creation of currency and credit was the basis of economic health.

It was on this policy that Mr. King's Government was elected by large majorities on each occasion. This policy, then, is the formal monetary policy of the Canadian people endorsed twice by the electorate in a most emphatic manner.

But Mr. Ilsley has another policy which is diametrically opposed to this one. It is the "sound money" policy of the traditional and apparently unmovable advisors to the finance department. And it is so desperately bent on maintaining a private monopoly of currency and credit that it went so far as to refuse to disclose the hidden reserves of Canadian banks.

Which policy is Mr. Ilsley presenting as the policy of the Canadian people?

There has been some little fuss in the House of Commons over the right of other political parties to be represented on the delegation attending this conference with Mr. Ilsley.

Mr. Ilsley points out that there are certain definite limits as to who is entitled to representation. If, however, our minister of finance is passing off his private monopolistic theory as the view of the people of Canada, it would seem to be clear that the only person who should not be representing Canada in these international monetary talks is Mr. Ilsley himself.

How Many More?

As suggested in this column last week, the truck which snuffed out the life of an Edmonton child on June 27th has been found by a coroner's jury to be "in such bad condition regarding brakes and horn as to be a great danger to the public."

Implicit in this verdict are three questions highly important to the parents of Edmonton:

1. How many other trucks and vehicles, which are threats to life and safety, are being operated throughout the city?

2. What legal machinery exists to put these deficient vehicles off the streets before, not after, they crush some child to death?

3. Is that machinery being used in a manner and to an extent compatible with the value of the lives of Edmonton children?

If this fatal accident was the result of some slip-up in a regular system of checking car and truck brakes, it is bad enough. If it is the result of no systematic check-up at all, it discloses a situation intolerable to the people of this city.

Embarrassment Removed

Current efforts of the Soviet Union to court the friendship of Poland, by restoring Polish citizenship to Poles fighting in Russia and by other conciliatory measures, will have the effect of removing one of the most acute and dangerous embarrassments existing among the United Nations.

For while the other Allies have only admiration and gratitude for Russia for her valiant efforts in defeating Hitler, it is hard for people of good conscience to forget that the British Empire was plunged into this war, in the first place, to support a pledge guaranteeing the integrity of the Polish nation.

It is conceivable that for the sake of self-preservation, the British and Canadians might have been forced into the unhappy position of standing by while Russia seized slices of Poland in payment for her services. But if that had happened, it would have bred the most bitter cynicism ever known in a particularly cynical age. It would have dealt a death-blow to the idealism of international relations.

Fortunately that danger appears to have passed. Marshal Stalin has pledged himself to the support of a strong and independent Poland. He has offered to train and equip a powerful Polish army. His gestures are all amicable.

This is tremendously reassuring. A Russia of military strength has been a vital asset in wartime. Only a Russia of good-will can be an asset in the coming time of peace.

Centralized Law School

The Hon. Mr. Justice C. C. McLaurin has made the proposal to the Law Society of Saskatchewan that the three prairie provinces should pool their individual law schools and establish one large one instead of three comparatively small ones.

Some years ago, when law students acquired instruction at the same time they were articulated to established barristers, this proposal would have been unworkable. Today, when most students take their formal instruction prior to being articulated, if they are articulated at all, it is not only feasible but desirable. A single western law school could offer advantages that the divided schools could not.

More significant than Mr. Justice McLaurin's idea itself is the implication of it. For this proposal is only another in the many trends pointing to the general centralization of education in Canada. If one school of law would better serve the western provinces than three schools of law, one system of education would better serve Canada than nine systems.

Constitutionally, education is a prerogative of the provinces. The sooner the constitution is changed to unify Canada's educational system, the sooner we will be on the road to a single conception of Canadian citizenship and nationality.

It was something that Berlin condescended to issue an official note on the shooting of British and Canadian airmen at Stalag Luft III. It is something also that a second note is to be issued, in reply to Mr. Eden's declaration that the men were "murdered in cold blood." Hitler in his heyday paid no attention to the most direct and circumstantial charges that his troops had ignored international law and resorted to sheer savagery in the invaded countries and on the high seas. Evidently it is dawning at the gangster headquarters that, after all, there may come a day of reckoning.

In two weeks of air and sea fighting around the Marianas, the Japs lost 747 planes, 30 ships sunk and 51 damaged, and 13 barges destroyed. Ninety-five American carrier-based planes were lost, but most of the pilots and crewmen were saved, and no Allied ship losses are reported. What began as a battle has drawn out into a campaign of attrition, in which the enemy has suffered severely. Tokyo has no misunderstanding of the importance of holding that island group, since it is making such heavy sacrifices in the unpromising effort to beat back the attack.

True Church

Editor Bulletin: In reply to the letter by Mr. Robbins, I am unable to find anything in the Gospel of St. John or any of the other gospels that would lead any one into what he calls the "one true church."

His "one and true church" may take a firm stand against such sins as divorce, birth control, immorality and sterilization but Christ did not take any greater stand against these sins than any other.

If the "one and true church" would take a firm stand against the poverty, disease, and ignorance that always has been and still is the cause of these sins it would be more consistent.

The Pope himself got very far away from the teachings of Christ when he blessed Mussolini and Franco in the murder of human beings. He was very Christ-like when he begged for his home town not to be bombed but he did not worry about Christ or his teachings when London was being bombed. Consistency, Mr. Robbins is a jewel.

Novels

Editor Bulletin: I happened to be reading an article in your newspaper entitled "Those Good Old Time Novels" by J. H. Gray, when I came across this paragraph: I quote, "According to Mr. Zuken, typical novels being read are: The Green Coffin Mystery, by Ellery Queen; The Garden Murder Case, by S. S. Van Dine; and The Case of the Velvet Claws, by Earl Derr Biggers."

I would suggest that Mr. Gray read some of these novels himself, then he might know the authors.

The Case of the Velvet Claws was not written by Earl Derr Biggers as Mr. Gray states in his article, but was written by Eric Stanley Gardner.

Editor Bulletin: I noticed a day or two before the recent naval fight between the American and Japanese fleets, I had a feeling of extraordinary activity. I stepped around as though I was 18 instead of 68. I told some friends we would bear some news before long of a big battle. A few hours after we heard by radio that the Japanese navy was getting in position for a sea fight.

I shall never forget when Firpo knocked Dempsey out of the ring, some friends of mine asked me what I thought of it. I replied wait a few minutes, I am sure something very unusual is about to take place. All at once a feeling of great strength and activity gripped me. Dempsey got back in the ring and gave Firpo a K.O.

Patent Abuses

Editor Bulletin: An article on your editorial page by H. T. Richardson re abuses of patent regulations, opens up a view by the late William Wallace F.R.S.E., of Campbell, Alta., to the effect that an amendment to our existing patent laws would overcome the injustices and abuses pertinent to this article of legislation almost completely.

This amendment recommends the wording of the existing law to read that a patent upon the expiration of its legal monopoly be declared the property of the people collectively under the guardianship of the state.

The existing wording reads that patents after expiration become the free property of the individual, which renders them in general as good as worthless to the individual.

This matter may appear to be mainly an international question, but even as small a part as Canadians may play in inventions that small part should be played on the square.

Mr. Wallace had written a very direct and convincing summary on this subject, and from opinions expressed by world famous statesmen and scholars to whom Mr. Wallace submitted his paper, each were in agreement with the justice and integrity of the proposal, but none could offer advice as to an effective way to get it done.

Clothing Allowance

Editor Bulletin: I hope you will kindly give this a bit of space in your paper and oblige me.

I see in your paper an article in regard to the soldiers' clothing allowance to the amount of $65 and what they could buy for this amount, which apparently was very little in the clothing line.

Well, sir, I was returned back from overseas in 1942 and the clothing allowance at that time was the large amount of $35. And it doesn't seem fair to all the boys who are now and were discharged previous to this raise in the allowance and who, in my opinion, did their little bit over there, too, should be forgotten when there is an increase given for clothing. We had to pay the same amount for our clothing at that time as we do at the present time, so why the discrimination because we happened to have the misfortune to be sent home ahead of time.

I, for one, would like to see someone take this up and do something about it. It is just the same as at the finish of the last war—everyone forgotten a few months after we were discharged.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

This is the second of two columns describing Premier Stalin's views on Polish-Russian problems and on other phases of Soviet co-operation, as expressed in his interview with Father Orlemanski and Professor Lange.—EDITOR.

WASHINGTON.—Stalin's interview with Professor Oscar Lange of the University of Chicago, Polish-American leader, lasted two hours and 20 minutes, during which the strong man of Russia sipped tea and smoked an endless chain of cigarettes. Present at the interview were Foreign Commissar Molotov and Secretary Pavlov of the foreign office.

It is considered significant that Polish Premier Mikolajczyk, during his recent visit in this country, spent considerable time with Professor Lange, who had recently returned from his talk with Stalin. It is believed that the Lange-Mikolajczyk conferences in Chicago, together with those the Polish premier had with President Roosevelt in Washington, have had much to do with the reported favorable trend of Polish-Russian relations recently.

However, Stalin did not talk only about Poland. At one point, he was asked about the danger of Anglo-Soviet-American harmony breaking up. His reply was that he was not worried.

"This alliance is not built merely on an agreement between three men," Stalin said. "It is the result of a deep and compelling fundamental community of historical interests. It is assured by the fact that we all need each other. As one of your American statesmen once said, 'If we do not all hang together, we will hang separately. So I am confident that, despite minor disturbances and occasional irritations, our friendship will continue and will assure peace to the post-war world.'"

Socialistic

Stalin was also asked about the chances of Germany becoming socialistic after the war. He replied that he did not believe that likely.

Foreign Commissar Molotov, however, expressed disagreement, pointing out that $500,000 anti-Nazi votes were cast in the last free election before Hitler came into power.

But Stalin argued back: "The cadres (meaning cells) of the rank and file of the German labor movement have been completely destroyed by fascism. The come-back of the German labor movement is a matter of one or two generations. Meanwhile, we can take no chances with Germany."

When the subject of Hitler and the German atrocities came up, Stalin became emotional. He told how the Germans had burned villages, slaughtered children, destroyed everything they saw.

"How can you expect a people who have indulged in such sadistic brutal atrocities to be socialists or communists? They are murderous barbarians. Human beings never could do such ruthless, savage things."

During his conversations, Stalin frequently referred to Lenin, leader of the Bolshevik revolution. "I am only following in the path laid down for us by Lenin," he once remarked.

No AMG

Referring to Polish problems, the main subject in which both Professor Lange and Father Orlemanski were interested, Stalin stated categorically that there would be no AMG for Poland in the wake of Red Army advances.

Stalin expressed deep distrust of the Polish officers trained by AMG in the United States, England and Cairo to re-establish Polish rule in re-occupied Polish territory. He described these men as bitterly anti-Soviet and almost pro-German.

"There will be no AMGOT rule in Poland," Stalin said, calling AMG by the name which was originally used but which was changed when the Allies discovered that "amgot" was the Turkish word for horse manure and carried an unfortunate connotation.

"The Poles must form their own government," Stalin continued. "The Polish government must emerge from Poland itself."

Independence

He was told that many of the Polish people in Russia are now more radical than citizens of the Soviet. He said that this did not surprise him. The political feeling of the Poles, he said, approximated that of the Russians at the time of their revolution.

He said that, if the Polish people wanted to nationalize their industries and introduce substantial agrarian reforms, it would be a good thing. He added, however, that Russia had no intention of telling them what kind of a government they should have, or how they should run it.

"We are only interested in the future peace of Europe," Stalin said, "and in not having Poland used as a dormitory over which an aggressor nation can walk to assail our country."

In this connection, he made a pledge considered most significant to Polish-American leaders—namely, that the Union of Polish Patriots would not be used to form the basis for a new Polish government. The Union of Polish Patriots is the organization of Poles formed inside Russia and working closely with the Soviet. It has always been suspected that the Soviet planned to construct a new Polish government, perhaps with communist leanings, using the Polish Patriots as a nucleus. But throughout his interview, Stalin gave assurances that he was not interested in a communist Poland, but that he was very much interested in a friendly Poland.

Unlucky

NOTTINGHAM EVENING POST

Amongst the many people who have been distinctly unlucky in blitz experiences must be included our Minister of Production, Mr. Oliver Lyttelton, who won distinction in the last war as a Guards officer, has had unfortunate experience of this war on the home front. First his home in Connaught Place was bombed quite early in the Great Blitz. He had his furniture and pictures removed to a store. That was bombed too. Now he has had his flat off Berkeley Square burnt nearly out, the damage including the furniture and all Mr. Lyttelton's wardrobe. He was left with only the clothes he stood up in. Fortunately or otherwise, at the time of the fire he was not at home, but on a visit.

Origin of Some Wedding Customs

Shower Idea Started by Dutch to Foil Designs of Parent

By MARY ALICE QUAYNE

Statistics tell us that during wartime there are more marriages than in peacetime. It seems that summertime is the popular time for weddings.

Whether the nuptials are to be celebrated with a formal reception or just the families concerned, there is generally some pre-wedding excitement for the bride in the form of showers. What a thrill the girl gets as she sits opening parcels of all shapes and sizes.

This old custom has been kept up on this continent, but it would be quite a novelty in England, where the idea is now practically unknown.

The "shower" originated in the little country of tulips, windmills and wooden shoes. Long ago a beautiful girl fell in love with a young miller in a Dutch village. He was tremendously popular because of his steady always thinking of profits he constantly gave away the products of his mill; he couldn't bear the thought of anyone having to go without the necessities of life.

However, the girl's father wanted to give his daughter to a wealthy farmer, and forbade the other marriage. In those days the father's word was law and disobedience meant the loss of her dowry. All the people in the village loved the generous young miller, and wanted him to have the wife of his choice.

So he thought and thought until they evolved a plan for a substitute dowry.

From the house of a friend whom she had been asked to visit, the girl heard the sound of happy laughter and the clatter of many clogs coming nearer and nearer. She ran to look and the gay procession streamed toward her.

Homemade Gifts

One by one they came and placed beside her their gifts—something for a home. Few were bought with money, for they had little—they were the fruits of clever hands and loving hearts. Some brought hand-woven linens, one a hand-carved stool, another a wooden chair, quaint wooden spoons and forks.

Others brought blue plates, mugs, pottery vases. They "showered" the bride-to-be with tokens of their affection.

Remembering this story when her friend was to be married, a woman in the south of England gathered her companions together and told them the old Dutch tale. Having little money to spare they were delighted with the idea and planned a "surprise" party for the bride-elect, to which they each brought a small home gift.

The pioneers brought this story across the water and while the shower never survived in England, the lucky girls on this continent still get the benefit of this very useful way of wishing happiness to new little homemakers.

NOT JUST NOODLE SOUP - BUT CHICKEN NOODLE SOUP

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

ALL-SQUARE now in their private baseball feud, in so far as field decisions go, Yanks and Signals will have to wait until July 11 for the rubber. These clubs have met four times. No date has been set for the replay of the protested game of June 10. Last night's crowd was about 2,500.

Although he ultimately gathered in his third straight, Bob Sawyer appeared to have some difficulty in making the ball behave during the early innings Tuesday night. But only one hit in the first frame and not another until the sixth, is evidence the Yanks weren't able to do much about it either. Bob shut off the hit list entirely during the last three cantos.

However, the Signals' chucker wasn't going short on safe blows for himself, his two for three hoisting his total for the year to 22 and his average to .449. And Jim Junker has been in only six games, but he has 12 hits and is clotting .322.

Denny Hacker has been turning in a very useful brand of game for the Signallers each time out and last night was no exception. He made a great catch of John Galvin's foul tip at the bleacher fence to retire the Yanks in the fifth and a great save of Columbus Birchfield's drive in the eighth.

Both teams made seven fielding misplays, and that is a new high for Signals. Yanks' biggest bid was in the sixth, when they collected three of their four bingles. Gino Valenti, Al Goodrich and Johnny Gray coming through. Al Walker with three wins to his credit, did his third fireman's job last night and allowed no hits in his 1-13 innings.

HERE AND THERE... KAY HEIM, formerly of the Army and Navy Pals, apparently hasn't many idle moments as catcher for the Kenosha, Wis. team in the All-American Girls' Pro Softball League.

She had just returned from a road trip to Minneapolis and Milwaukee, when she wrote the A. R. Lawrence family. Kay caught five of eight games played, and Kenosha, at present second in the standing, won five. And here's something—the girls have started a kitty, 50c per error, with an even split at the end of the season. "Gosh, but the weather's hot here," winds up Kay.

The last issue of The Beacon contains a complete list of entries from the U.S. Air Base here for the War Services Council track and field meet to be held at Clarke Stadium on Saturday afternoon. Ralph Schumacher and Columbus Birchfield of the Yanks are in the half-mile, and Mort Goodstein, the fighter, will be tossing the discus. The Base will be fully represented in 12 events.

Mike Milner, who has been mowing them down with almost monotonous regularity as pitcher for the U.S.A.A.F. Officers in the senior fastball loop, lost his first game last night. Al Mumaw was chucker for the victors—the Enlisted Men.

Tennis under the lights is making a big hit down in Ottawa this summer, with crowds of several hundred on hand when some of the top racket wielders are performing.

Mumaw Pitches Well

First Defeat for Milner As Enlisted Men Triumph

MIKE MILNER suffered his first defeat of the season in the City Men's Fastball League Tuesday night when the U.S.A.A.F. Enlisted Men shut out the Officers 1-0 on a five-hit performance by Danny Mumaw at Kingsway Park. It was the second straight reverse for the league leaders.

Mumaw and Milner staged a real pitching duel for the eight innings, but a run by Dick Trippel in the first frame cost the Officers the game.

Mumaw walked one and only struck out one batter in his winning effort while Milner fanned nine and pitched a pair in chucking six-hit ball.

Trippel, first up for the winners, scored the only run when he singled through second base, advanced on a passed ball, went to third when Bob Batliner was put out, second to first, and was batted in by Stan Burns' single to right field.

The Officers threatened in the seventh when Harold Peterson reached third with two out, but was left on when Russell Blaisdell died out to third for the third-out.

Only one other Enlisted Man got as far as third, that being Bob Haynie in the second canto. He died there, however, as Charlie Heroux fanned for the third out.

Fifth Victory in Last Six Starts; Eleven Hits Off Gray

Signallers in 2nd Place—Beat Yanks 8-5

Bob Sawyer Racks up 3rd Straight Win

THE U.S. Signallers shoved the Yanks out and moved into second place in the standings of the Senior Baseball League when they tagged their American rivals 8-5 in their Independence Day fixture at Renfrew Park.

It was the third winning start for Bob Sawyer and the fifth triumph for Signallers in their last six games. Southpaw Sawyer permitted only four hits and not a single earned run, and Yanks were held hitless for seven of the nine innings.

Johnny Gray pitched for Yanks and was touched for 11 safeties, five coming in the first two frames. Al Walker took over in the seventh after four runs had been marked up as a result of a couple of errors combined with two hits, one hit-by-pitcher and a walk.

Yanks checked in with a pair of counters in the opening stanza. Columbus Birchfield, first man up, singled into centre and he stole second. Ralph Schumacher grounded out to Hacker. John Galvin reached first safely when Bert Culver juggled the ball too long. Birchfield going on to third.

Gino Valenti walked and both Birchfield and Galvin scored when Doug Roush hit to short and Jim Junker hit Birchfield with the ball when he threw to the plate to head off the run.

Signals squared accounts with the opposition with a brace of earned counters after two were out in their half of the inning. Lester Nelson started things rolling by singling through the box to centre and he stole second, from where he scored on Junker's drive into right. Junker also stole second and was ready to score when Sawyer hit a hard one to centre field. Sawyer went out—Valenti to Galvin when he tried to stretch the hit to two sacks.

Signals went out in front for the first time in the fifth. With one down, Culver hit over second and continued to third when Danny Hacker doubled. Nelson then hit to centre and the ball dropped between Valenti and Dorsky and Hacker came in.

Yanks chased over three unearned runs in the sixth, after Valenti opened with a two-bagger. Roush grounded to Junker who threw to Nelson for a putout on Valenti. Pete Meyers rolled one to Hacker at first for the second out.

Dorsky was safe when Hacker failed to keep his foot on the bag when he took the throw from short. Roush made a dash for home and when he crashed into Goodrich the latter dropped Hacker's toss and the run counted.

Goodrich singled Dorsky home from second and scored on Johnny Gray's drive to right field.

Signallers got all the runs back with a bonus of one in the seventh. Culver was safe when Meyers dropped the ball and Hacker reached first safely on Birchfield's error.

Nelson hit to Birchfield and the latter touched the bag ahead of Culver for the first out. Junker walked and Sawyer came through with a safe drive into centre which brought in both Hacker and Nelson.

Gray hit Jim Kelly and two more runs came in on Walker's smash to right field. Walker went in to pitch.

A walk, a wild pitch, a passed ball and an error let in another run for Signallers in the eighth. Walker issued two more passes, but no damage resulted.

Cardinals Turn Back Giants In National League Header

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—(AP)—The National League leading St. Louis Cardinals exploded with a big inning in each game Tuesday to defeat the New York Giants in a double-header 6-2 and 9-1, before a holiday crowd of 18,762.

The twin triumph was featured by the oddity of a pitcher being knocked out of the box with one hit. Rube Fischer, on the mound for the Giants in the second game, set the Cardinals down in order in the first two innings but walked three men to load the bases in the third frame. Ray Sanders then came through with a double for the first Cardinal hit, driving in three runs.

Fischer was yanked for Ace Adams. The Cardinals clinched the opening game in the first inning, pounding Harry Feldman for five hits, including a triple by Sanders and doubles by Walter Cooper and Whitey Kurowski.

CHICAGO, July 5.—(AP)—After being in the National League cellar continuously since the first week of the season, Chicago Cubs climbed to seventh place Tuesday by defeating the Boston Braves twice, 7-1 and 4-2, before 37,178 fans. The defeat put the Braves in last place.

Bill Fleming held the Bostonians to four singles as he hung up his third victory in the opener, while Claude Passeau allowed seven hits for his season's fourth victory.

Centrals Blank Moose 5-0 On Stew Cowan's One-Hitter

MAKING his first appearance at Kingsway Park, "Stew" Cowan hurled Central-Aeroliners to a one-hit, 5-0 victory over Moose in a City Men's Fastball League game Tuesday night. The win increased Centrals' hold on second place.

The lone safety allowed by Cowan, who recently returned from Cairo, Egypt, where he pitched an R.C.A.F. team to the Middle East championship, was a single to Art Eckert in the eighth inning.

The winners started the scoring in the second when they tallied two runs, brought in by Al Claw and Lou Green. Ab Whelpley came through with a marker in the third inning and Ken McAuley and Claw scored the other two runs in the fourth.

"Sunny" Wheeler played a nice game at third for the Centrals, making six put outs, three of which were out-standing catches.

Georgie Drum Scores Win In Stars and Stripes 'Cap

CHICAGO, July 5.—(AP)—Georgie Drum, a five-year gelding which only a couple of years ago was running in cheap races on the Pacific coast, bounced into major competition Tuesday by winning the $59,350 Stars and Stripes handicap at Arlington Park to thrill a holiday crowd of 36,000.

Fire Destroys Baseball Park At Baltimore

BALTIMORE, July 5.—(AP)—Fire of undetermined origin razed the stands of famed Oriole Park, home of the Baltimore International league club Tuesday, causing a loss estimated by club officials at around $150,000. The wooden stands burned so rapidly that within little more than an hour only charred and smoking timbers remained around the field where Jack Dunn once led his Orioles to seven straight league pennants and where he developed such famous stars as Babe Ruth, Lefty Grove, Joe Boley, Tommy Thomas, Max Bishop and others.

All the uniforms and playing equipment of the league-leading Baltimore club and of the Syracuse Chiefs, scheduled to play an Independence Day double-header here, were destroyed. Thomas, now Baltimore's manager, said it would be impossible to play yesterday's games because of this loss. Emergency plans were made a Pensive, winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, and heading for the American three-year-old championship, finished fourth—7 1/2 lengths back of the winner.

Equifox, owned by Howard Wells of Lexington, Ky., was second, a length back of Georgie Drum. The Irish-bred Rounders was third.

Pensive went to the post the favorite, with Georgie Drum second choice. The winner returned $6.00, $4.40 and $3.40, with Equifox paying $7.00 and $4.20. The show price on Rounders was $5.00.

The winner is owned by George Drumheller of Walla Walla, Wash., who wrapped $41,000 around his bank roll for the triumph. Georgie Drum with Georgie Woolf, the celebrated "ice man" on his back, ran the mile and a furlong in 1:49 4/5.

Pensive was without the riding ability of little Conn McCreary, in hospital with a fractured right wrist. McCreary rode Pensive to his major triumphs this season.

Tennis Trophy Again Defended By Glenora Duo

Proving their defeat of the original holders of the Kavanagh tennis trophy to be no fluke, the Glenora pair of Tudor Edmunds and "Shorts" Purcell turned back the challenge of Harry Kinloch and Les McManus of Garneau by 6-1, 1-6, 6-3 Tuesday night.

Kinloch and McManus decided on the aerial attack, and throughout the match kept up a continual barrage of overheads that exceeded anything seen to date. The jobs were exceptionally high, and challengers were determined to put up any kind of a game to win.

The match was slow in spots, but most of the time there were very brilliant plays executed. The Glenora players eventually got to their stride and pulled out a fairly creditable victory.

Next challengers are the Civil Service's highly touted Bob Hall of the U.S. Services and Carl Farvolden. The Civil Service club pin their hopes on this pair and it should be quite a battle. The match is tentatively set for Glenora courts, Saturday, July 6, at 6:30. The largest gallery to date witnessed last night's match.

CANADIAN SPORTSHOTS

By SYD THOMAS

TORONTO, July 5.—(CP)—When pari-mutuel betting was suspended on the Canadian Derby in Winnipeg the machines lost a good chance to clean up. As a result, the Hatch stable running mate Ompalo, was an overwhelming favorite, and would have gone "10 to 1" to 50 at least," Herb (Winnipeg Tribune) Manning reported shortly before the race started.

Herb opined that "There's no profit in that for anyone, and considerable loss if the race were not run truly."

At any rate, the punters were saved a flock of that folding, scarce green stuff when the track called off the dogs, but it's a sure bet the boys who would have backed the long shots are mad about the whole thing.

WHAT, THAT AGAIN?

The Hall of Fame is back in the news. Ex-Halifax alderman "Gee" Ahern has returned to his old job as sports editor of the Halifax Herald and is proposing that the seaport establish its own fame hall. Gee was one of the leading lights in the campaign to place the hall in Halifax, but the Nova Scotia, as well as Montreal, claims were turned down by the C.A.I.A. and N.H.L. because, for one reason, Kingston, Ont., was considered in a more central position to lure the tourists.

WEST GONE SOFT?

Those pioneers who blazed the western trails would turn in their graves if they knew this. The westerners no longer have the daring of yesteryear, in fact of yestermoments. Because of transportation troubles, arrangements were made to carry the fans to the race tracks in Vancouver in telly-hoes and old conveyances of one kind or another. But came race-time, and by hook or by crook the race followers got there somehow, anyhow except by the horse-drawn vehicles which were patronized by a mere 10 per cent of the crowd.

INCIDENTALLY:

Speaking of tracks on the coast, they have the infield of Vancouver's Lansdowne Park planted in potatoes this year. The way some of the nags run, the jockeys will be able to help in the harvest this fall.

Allen Meagher, one-time British Empire Games sprint star from Halifax and Dartmouth, is still teaching in Halifax. Though H. C. Hatch lost out in this year's Canadian Derby, he thinks

1943-44 Crop Year Notable for Immense Grain Movement

Total 580,000,000 Bushels Shipped from Rural Points In Period Since Aug. 1, 1943

The 1943-44 crop year will be remembered for the immense movement of grain in both domestic and export channels, Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, and member of parliament for Edmonton West, stated on his arrival here Wednesday for a short vacation.

Approximately 580,000,000 bushels of grain have already been shipped out of country elevators since Aug. 1, 1943, and it is estimated that this figure will be increased to 640,000,000 bushels by July 31 next.

He said that the United States has, at least temporarily, supplanted the United Kingdom as the principal market for Canadian grain. The poor 1943 crop made a big market for western grain feeds in Eastern Canada.

Commenting on this year's crop prospects, Mr. MacKinnon said that if the present favorable weather conditions continue and present prospects materialize it is quite possible that the wheat yield will be 500,000,000 bushels, with the oat and barley crop yielding higher than that figure. He said that a great deal depends on the weather conditions during July.

Approximately 526,000,000 is now Continued on Page Fifteen

Calgary Member Plans to Retire

James C. Mahaffy, K.C., independent M.L.A. for Calgary, announced Wednesday that he will not seek re-election to Alberta's tenth Legislative Assembly. Pressure of legal business was given as the reason for his retirement from the political scene.

Mr. Mahaffy was first elected in 1940 and served a year as independent party leader in the Legislature. His retirement brings to six the number of independent party M.L.A.'s who will not seek nominations for the coming elections. Others are Percy McKelvey, Ponoka; Lionel Teulier, St. Albert; F. D. Jackson, Cypress; Dr. P. M. Campbell, Lethbridge; and Dr. L. J. O'Brien, Grande Prairie.

Miss Emeline Robinson, formerly of this city, is ill in Deer Lodge hospital, Winnipeg. It was learned here Wednesday. Miss Robinson is making good progress toward recovery.

Beautification Project Due For Autumn Parley

Discussions which may lead to a joint city and Canadian National Railways plan for the beautification of the approaches to the Macdonald hotel will be held here in the late fall, it was revealed by Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, and member of Parliament for Edmonton West, who arrived in the city Wednesday on a short holiday.

He is accompanied by Mrs. MacKinnon and their daughter, Miss Keltie MacKinnon, and D. Walter Thomson, his secretary. They are guests at the Macdonald hotel.

Mr. MacKinnon has taken a considerable interest in the proposed beautification plan, and will undoubtedly confer with Mayor John W. Fry and civic officials on this matter while in Edmonton. The minister expects to remain in the city for about 10 days.

SEEK SOLUTION

He said that he had been authorized to state that R. C. Vaughan, president of the Canadian National Railways, would be in Edmonton some time in the late fall and that at that time round table discussions would take place that might lead to a solution of the beautification problem.

Mr. MacKinnon stated that he had discussed the beautification proposals with Mr. Vaughan who is keenly interested in a solution of this problem.

Veterinarians Seeking Cause Anthrax Case

Dr. P. R. Talbot, provincial veterinarian, and R. H. C. Cowan, director of veterinarian services for the Dominion government, were at Provost Wednesday, investigating a case of suspected anthrax.

The case was reported earlier in the week, and is said by medical authorities to have been transferred to five-year-old Darcy Rosecky by a cat scratch. Anthrax is generally an animal disease, cattle being its most common victims.

A number of cows in the district were reported to the agriculture department here as suffering from a mysterious ailment, and the veterinarians will examine the possibility of an anthrax epidemic affecting them. Cattle and sheep will be examined for symptoms.

Earlier, anthrax serum, rushed from New York by plane, was dropped by parachute at the Provost general hospital for treatment of the Rosecky child. She became ill after being scratched by a cat which had fed on a carcass at the farm home of her father, William Rosecky.

Condition of the girl, believed to be suffering from the rare disease, was described as "much better" with her temperature back to normal.

Provincial government health officials said a case of anthrax was reported last year and the victim, the wife of a Lethbridge doctor, recovered. The health department said no record was available on how the woman contracted the disease.

Provost is 190 miles east of Edmonton.

Salvation Army Officer Coming

A new superintendent for the Salvation Army Women's Home will arrive here at the end of July. She is Maj. A. King, who succeeds Maj. E. A. Mabb and Maj. M. Thomas who have been here for the last eight years.

She will be assisted in duties here by Major D. Thompson.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION
How do you plan to spend your summer vacation this year?

THE ANSWERS
N. C. WARD, clerk: We have a cottage at Alberta Beach and that's where we will go. I take three weeks' holidays, and the family goes away for a month. This year we will go in August, although we have always gone earlier before. This year, school staying in until the middle of July prevents this.

IRENE DONALD, student: Three chums and myself are going to Banff for a week, at the end of this month. We went to Jasper last year, and next time we want to go to Waterton Lakes. We are trying to see all the main beauty spots in the province, and hope some day to go north along the Alaska Highway, which is most scenic, according to men who worked along it.

H. E. MUNRO, truck driver: This year I'm going to work on out house. I have been working at it all summer, and what I want to do before winter is nearly finished now. Two weeks' work should see me through until next year, although it will take two or three years of spare time work to complete all the little details.

Wampum, the shell money of the North American Indians, was in two colors, dark purple and white.

Chairman Says League Seeking Get Square Deal

At a meeting of the West Jasper Place Community League held Tuesday night, Stanley E. Kenworthy, chairman, pointed out that the purpose of the league is to see that residents of the district get a fair deal. "The city's refusal to interest itself in the district is beginning to show results," he said.

Mr. Kenworthy pointed out that the lack of proper sewerage facilities is a health menace, not only to the community but to the city at large. "If an epidemic started out here it wouldn't be curbed by the city limits boundary line," he said.

The meeting, which was attended by more than 100 persons approved the action of the municipal council in approaching the Calgary Power Co. regarding electric light rates.

A. Fraser Duncan, K.C., solicitor for the council, told the meeting how the league had been formed to approach the power company when the city commissioners refused to make any adjustment in rates or extension of facilities.

The power company's offer of 1 1/2 cents per K.W.H. over and above a $2 minimum charge was followed up by an offer from the city for a straight charge of 6 cents per K.W.H.

TO HOLD PLEBISCITE
A plebiscite will be held on Saturday between 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. to decide what action will be taken in this case.

Many residents voiced reluctance to sever the connection with the city but said they realized the good of the community as a whole must be considered.

W. J. Cardy of the city electric light department addressed the meeting, outlining the city's proposals.

Max Dewar, city architect outlined the advantages of the proposed zoning by-law.

McKenney On Bridge

By WILLIAM MCKENNEY

The world championship Masters pair event, which will be held during the session of the national tournament at the Hotel Astor, New York City, the week beginning July 30, will probably turn out to be a record entry. The increasing number of tournaments conducted by the American Contract Bridge League each year has more than doubled the list of eligible Masters. However, peculiar results occur even in this event.

Here is an interesting hand I recall from last year. By brilliant bidding and accurate play, Pvt. John R. Crawford of Philadelphia and Howard Schenken of New York won all the points on the hand. It was one of the decisive hands that helped them win the championship.

Duplicate—Both vul.
10 West 2 North East Double
20 2 4 6

Most West players could not find a free bid in response to East's double, but Crawford had no such trouble. Schenken jumped to the game, which most missed in the bidding, and others in the play. South won the first trick with the diamond queen and returned the singleton club. Crawford won with the ace, ruffed a diamond in dummy, then laid down the ace and another spade. South won the second spade and led the diamond king. Crawford did not ruff in dummy, but discarded a club, and there was no further defence.

If South returned another diamond, Crawford would ruff in

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

It is hard for an efficient mother to let the child participate in clothing, feeding, or washing himself. It's so much more quickly accomplished if she does everything herself.

But the mother of experimental nature will discover, when she allows the child to dress himself—even if it takes longer—or to feed himself—even if he is messy—or to go to the toilet by himself, that he will be more amiable about these activities. He won't fight against her because his independence is exhilarating to him.

In that weekly chore of washing the runabout's hair, usually a tedious, often an emotional experience, if the mother will allow the child some chance to take part in it, the whole thing may be gone through peacefully.

Put the child in a chair in front of a mirror. Put a towel around him. Put a little warm soap suds on the top of his head and let him work it up into a frothy lather. Let him rub it in and over his own head, mother watching that none runs into his eyes. When it is time to rinse it off, let him sit in the tub, with his eyes tight-closed and squeeze clear water from a sponge over his head. While he is busy doing that, mother may pour some from a little pitcher and before he is even satisfied to stop, the head will be washed and clean.

Feeding himself will no doubt be accomplished with some spilled food and hands used as often as spoons. But all of this is part of the learning process and if the food reaches the right spot, the messiness should be ignored. Neatness will come later when lifting spoons no longer is such an arduous job.

Everything a child does for himself, from taking off shoes to walking upstairs without aid, is exhilarating to him. Therefore, we do him no favor to wait on him hand and foot. We do better to give him praise for his accomplishments and stand by to prevent any dire mishap.

A Mother: I think you do not realize that everything one could say about a complex subject, such as bed-wetting, cannot be said in one short article. The suggestions given pertained just to these two boys. And I felt the answer justified. You may have a general discussion of the subject in our leaflet, "Bed-Wetting." It considers reasons as well as treatment and may be had by sending your request for it to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper. Be sure to enclose with your request a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Debunker

MIDDLE AGE IS NOT THE TIME TO PUT ON WEIGHT.
Statistics compiled by the U.S. Public Health Service completely explode the notion that a person should take on considerable extra weight when he reaches middle age, and show that in these years "it is a definite advantage to be under the average weight for height." The statistics show that overweight people, at any age in life, are more likely to have heart trouble, kidney disease, diabetes and apoplexy. Getting fat in middle age, then, means a shorter life, even though it may be jolly to be fat and jolly (which the Debunker has already debunked!).

Woman was probably the first beast of burden. The American Indian papoose frame, the Eskimo hood, the Kaffir skin bag, the New Guinea net, the Andaman sling and the Chinese yoke, all baby carriers, tend to bear out this conclusion.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

College Is Valuable Asset To Young Girl

College Education Brings Peace to Home, Teaches Students to Stand on Own Feet, Breaks Up Puppy Love

One of the problems that is keeping many parents awake these summer nights is whether they should send Arabella off to school or not. Arabella is dying to go because her dearest chums are going, and because she is enraptured at the thought of having a complete new wardrobe, from sport suits to a formal, and because she has heard perfectly thrilling stories about the fun the girls have in the dormitories, and because she has begun to chafe at being bound to Mother's apron strings.

But Mother gets cold feet when she thinks about sending her little lamb out among the wolves. Who will hold her by the hand so she won't get run over crossing the street? Who will see that she brushes her teeth and changes her stockings when she gets her feet wet? Suppose she catches a cold. And oh, kind Heaven, just suppose she really gets sick, with nobody but trained nurses and doctors to take care of her. And, anyway why send her off to school when the home schools are so good.

Of course, if the girl is a high-brow, the question automatically settles itself. She should be given every educational advantage. But Arabella is no intellectual ball of fire. She has only the common, or garden, variety of feminine mind, and the only subject in which she will ever major is how to catch a husband and keep him.

FINANCES IMPORTANT

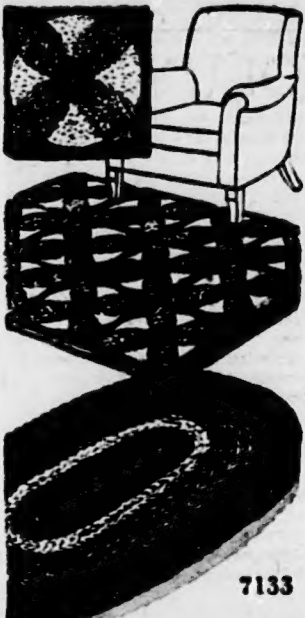

Besides which, there is the financial angle, which is very acute in these days of rationing and soaring taxes. Obviously it is folly for a family to go on a starvation diet to educate a girl who will never catch the higher culture, no matter how long she is exposed to it. But, be these things as they may, I think it is highly desirable that parents should send their teenage girls off to school if they can afford it. For one thing, it is worth its price in the peace it brings to a household. It inaugurates an armistice that stops the eternal fight between Arabella and Mother over dates, and how late a teenager should stay out at night, and lip stick, and the monopoly of the telephone, and all the other issues that make the average home with the average adolescent girl in it a dark and bloody battle-ground. Many mothers and daughters are estranged for life by these quarrels, and the tragedy can be avoided by sending Arabella off to school.

Another advantage in sending Arabella off to school is that it is a diplomatic method of breaking up undesirable social contacts and a painless cure for calf love. School girl intimacies depend upon propinquity. Remove that and bosom friends just naturally drift apart. New associates, other interests, a different point of view crowd out the old, and when Arabella comes home from school, even after the first few days, she finds she has nothing much to say to Sally any more, and she wonders what ever made her think she had a crush on the boy at the soda water counter.

And whether Arabella acquires any book learning or not when she goes off to school, she does get some education she can never get at home. She learns to stand on her own feet. She learns how to give

RHEUMATISM AND THE HEART
Fifty years ago Dr. Oiler wrote that of 456 cases of rheumatic fever (otherwise called acute infectious arthritis and acute inflammatory rheumatism) in Montreal General hospital, only 19 of the patients were under 15 years of age, nearly half of them were between fifteen and twenty-five years of age, only 32 of them were above thirty-five years of age.

Probably rheumatic fever today is a disease of late childhood, adolescence, young adult life in most cases, although the first attack occurs before the age of ten years in ten per cent. of the cases.

Oiler ascribed rheumatic fever to exposure. "Occupations which necessitate exposure to cold and great changes of temperature predispose strongly. . . . Exposure to cold, wetting, or sudden change of temperature are among the factors in determining the onset of an attack," wrote the great medical teacher of his day—and here is one reason why he was a great teacher: he added "but they were present in only 12 per cent. of our cases."

Evidently Dr. Oiler was concerned about the cold. 88 per cent. of cases occurring why only one out of eight victims of rheumatic fever could recall any particular exposure to cold, wet, sudden change. Virtually every man, woman and child who is not confined to bed is inevitably exposed to cold, wet, sudden change of temperature, draft, dampness, night air, fog, dew or some such change of environment daily if not hourly as long as he is alive. I wonder what ever induced Dr. Oiler to remark that exposure had nothing to do with seven out of eight cases of rheumatic fever. And I wish the great teacher could have had the grace (which comes easier today) to concede that even in the one per cent. that does recall exposure to cold, wet, sudden change of temperature determined onset of the attack: that that was just an old medical theory conceived by doctors away back in the dim past.

Dr. Oiler defined rheumatic fever as "an acute, non-contagious fever, dependent upon an unknown infective agent, and characterized by multiple arthritis (inflammation of many joints). Although the joint inflammation is painful enough and the fever is as serious as fever from any other cause, it is not the illness itself that gives us the complications which are liable to occur, particularly inflammation of the heart lining (endocarditis). That will be the subject of the next talk about rheumatism."

War Kitchen

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Cornmeal dishes seem to taste particularly good in summer. Use old-fashioned stone-ground meal if you can get it—it tastes richer and has more food value.

CORN BREAD

(Using stone-ground meal)
Mix together 3/4 cup cornmeal, 1 cup white flour, 1-3 cup sugar, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt.
To one well-beaten egg, add 2-3 cup milk. Add this to the dry ingredients, mixing well, and then add 3 tablespoons melted butter. Bake in a shallow pan.

SPOON BREAD

(Grand with cold cuts)
One and one-half tablespoons melted butter, 3 egg yolks, 2 cups cornmeal, 2 1/2 cups boiling water, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon soda.

Separate the yolks and whites of eggs and beat the white until stiff. Prepare a thin batter of other ingredients and lastly fold in the egg whites. Bake 40 minutes in a modern oven. Serve with butter or maple syrup, as preferred.

Tomorrow's Menu

ONTARIO AIRMAN AND BRIDE

Mrs. Powell is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, and the late William Roger Jones of Edmonton, and LAC. Powell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Powell of Ridgeway, Ont. They are spending their honeymoon at Calgary and Banff, and on their return will take up residence in the city.

Miss Evelyn C. Jones Becomes Bride of LAC. Kenneth Powell

Before a flower banked altar in First Baptist church on Saturday, Miss Evelyn Cecile Jones, youngest daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Jones and the late William Roger Jones, and LAC. Kenneth Wallace Powell, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Powell of Ridgeway, Ont., were united in marriage. Flt-Lt. C. A. McLaren, padre at Northwest Air Command, officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Fred C. Peter of Saskatoon, the bride chose a street length two-piece ensemble of powder blue chiffon, worn with white accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of Taisman roses.

Mrs. I. Faulder, sister of the bride, attended as matron-of-honor wearing a rose crepe frock with white accessories. Her corsage was of sweetheart rosebuds.

Best man was I. Faulder, brother-in-law of the bride, and LAC. Norman May, LAC. Dickson, and Leonard Peter ushered the guests to their places in the church.

WEDDING SUPPER

After the ceremony a wedding supper to 25 guests was held in the drawing room of the Macdonald hotel.

The bride's table was set in frost white linen, centered with three-tiered wedding cake. Tall white tapers, and bouquets of roses, peonies and snapdragons, completed the arrangement.

W. S. Warne proposed the toast to the bride.

Mrs. Jones chose for her daughter's wedding a blue flowered crepe ensemble, worn with black accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of pale yellow roses.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Calgary and Banff, the bride travelling in a dressmaker suit with black accessories. On their return they will take up residence in Edmonton.

DRIVE TRUCKS

As the Canadian armed merchant cruiser Prince Henry rode by the dock, being loaded for a sortie across the Channel, Wrens carried supplies aboard and drove the trucks that brought those things to the quay.

Wrens work on the repairing and re-stocking of ships back from France, they work on gun mountings, make final adjustments to electrical equipment.

In one floating dock, Wrens were scraping, cleaning and painting a naval craft while others, moulders' mates, helped cast a propeller.

RIDER KILLED

An A.T.S. dispatch rider was killed recently on urgent duty. Along sordid winding streets women brought out their kitchen tables and set them up along the pavement, loaded them with what they had—buns, previous wartime cake, tea, coffee, cigarettes for the convoys of men who passed that way.

Women on the searchlights, on the ack-ack batteries, struggle now as they never struggled before to down the Nazi pilot planes.

British women fly, though not in combat. W.A.A.F. flight mechanics make pre-operational flights to test the accuracy of the work they did on the ground. Wren radio mechanics fly with the fleet air arm to test wireless equipment that may mean the success or failure of a raid on Germany. Women pilots ferry planes—fighters and bombers—to the airfields where the combatant pilots wait for them.

On the railroads women have taken over men's jobs as guards, signal women, porters, conductors to keep vital transport moving.

Big Range Fire

War Liabilities Under Review At Conference

By THOMAS HAGENBUSH

BRETTON WOODS, N.H., July 5.—(AP)—The question of how Great Britain will solve its problem of blocked balances was injected into the United Nations Monetary Conference yesterday as the various committees put in their first full working day.

The matter came up with the introduction of a proposal that one of the functions of the proposed world stabilization fund would be "to promote and facilitate the settlement of abnormal indebtedness arising out of the war."

IMPORT BALANCES

This would apply directly to the approximately $5,000,000,000 in balances which Britain has accumulated as a result of her heavy wartime imports. Britain has given no indication how soon after the war these "frozen credits" will be released.

Countries, including those of the British Commonwealth which form the so-called "sterling bloc" received payment for goods they sell to Britain in sterling, which must be kept in London.

There was considerable delay yesterday at one committee meeting on a proposal that the fund assist in the fuller utilization of the resources of economically under-developed countries. This was put forward by a group of small nations with the plea that they need help for the development of their internal economies.

Two Nazi Captives

FLANDERS, Ont., July 5.—(CP)—Royal Canadian Mounted Police announced last night that two German prisoners of war, Teut Wallner, 21, and Alexander Treu, 24, escaped from the Seine River project, north of here, Monday night. Four men were killed in the sinking of the Liberty ship several weeks ago.
